

Season's Greetings from the Big House!

We thought we'd COMB OVER the year's events for you INCREDIBLE people. Since our recent "retirements" from service to the current administration, we've been real busy!

Since being relieved of her cabinet post, Ma's been teaching her fellow inmates how to knit, crochet and misinterpret foreign policy. Pa's been busy poundin' out Ukranian liscence plates and whittlin' a GREAT Mar-a-Lago nativity scene. George Jr. works on his golf swing in the yard while keeping abreast of the war on education via his STUPID home made ham radio. Candi and the girls spend hours on posture and elocution in hopes of a Miss Universe pageant win someday. They strut around the perimeter, balancing Diet Cokes on their heads while keeping well inside the straight, white lines. Believe me, they don't hesitate to call out the LOSERS on Cell Block B. They have ZERO talent.

Jeannie's taken on the Christmas gift giving by re-purposing spam cans into AMAZING COVFEVE Carafes for the staff. CLASSY job.

We are BIGLY up on current events as conveyed to us by F*s News. Good to hear the MORONS are getting what they asked for. Millions and Billions of people will thank us for winning. That Peach Mint sounds delicious! #MakeAmericaFatAgain

You might notice a few new faces in the picture this year. Told you we'd been busy! How TREMENDOUSLY blessed we are to have free health care in here. Meet our new voters and their nannies! You thought we were providing the childcare? WRONGGGG. Anyway, welcome Sleepy Sophia, Horseface Henry, Stinky Stephanie, Crooked Connor and Pencil Neck Pete to the clan.

We've got some surprises for the New Year – even for you HATERS and LOSERS –

It's gonna be HUGE!
