I guess the best memory for me personally was the coon hunting haul this year. I will try get a picher on here if I can. Technolohgy aint my strong suit. So back to the coons though. I got 8 50 last season, sold em in March after I defrosted em out o the freezer.
The missus was real glad to have room for the possums she'd been catching in a trap she cobbled together made of some old trash barrels and butter knives she had laying around.
I tellya I was impressed. Possums aren't great eatin' but hell you can't pass up any kind !of protein. Now that beef is selling so high we gotta sell 'em - we can't afford to eat that Lessee what else happind this year. Actually I'll be honest with ya. I know the missus usually writes this but she left me I kicked her out earlier this year. I had to learn a lot of things real quick. I found this typewriter in the basement, learn how to load the dishwasher and even text, can ya believe it? I was sac glad to see her go. She ran off with I got the gas man to take er off my hands. He's been bringing the propane out for years. I guess they started talking then started smooching and well there's a baby coming soon.

Lessee what would that be to me... gotta be some kinda relations right? She's my third .cousin and he's my second so I think the baby will be my fifth cousin twice removed

So you can find me on the dating site farmersonly.com - I bin doing pretty good on there.
I put a picher of my tractor and had to put ol' Bessie the coonhound then a couple of me, one with my best rifle and GPS hunting system. That thing was expensive, it's gotta impress some wimmen. I mebbe coulda put my good overall on but since the left side snaps are brokin' they got a good look at the ol' bod, free advertisin' I also took a selfie in the bedroom in the recliner with the towel over it, it was kinda dark and I'm frowning a bit but mebbe it looks sexy. I think it does so I'm sure the ladies will. Oh that reminds me, .put vaseline on the Walmart list. Hold on Okay I'm back. Oh I bet you wanna know about the wimmen you sly dogs. Heh heh. Well one didn't unerstand why the coonhounds were caged up. She threw a leash on 'im and tried to take 'im for a walk then got mad because he ran off with her down our dirt road! Oh it was funny, lemme tellya. She didn't come back but that's okay. There's plenty o fishin
