

Holiday Greetings Everyone,

2019!!! 2019! Just about a month left before we say goodbye to this year! And what a year it has been!!! A rollercoaster! A tilt-a-cup ride! So, buckle up, sit tight and enjoy the ride while I am sharing the highlights of our family 2019 whirly journey!

First stop: my beloved husband took on a side gig: a lover! Ho, ho, ho! His heart is so big that he had room for more love. And isn't that the purpose in life? To spread love wherever there is a chance? Such a selfless, generous giver! Can we all say together " Ho, ho, ho! Merry Christmas!" I guess when it comes to love the more the merrier! And her name is Mary just in case you were wondering who the young, cute girl sitting on my husband's lap is in our Christmas picture! What a lovely picture! And I took it, which explains why I am not in the picture!

Next stop: our oldest son, Danny, who just turned eighteen, finally had his first encounter with the law! And it was so cute to see him for the first time in handcuffs; all scared looking for his mommy! I wish I immortalized the moment, but there were no cell phones allowed at the courthouse! Instead, I included a picture of him in the hospital where he previously spent ten days, bravely fighting the effects of vaping and getting better just in time to get arrested and show up in court! What a treat that was!!! Ho, ho, ho! Merry Christmas!!

Final stop: our daughter, Annabelle, courageously said no to teenage pregnancy, and had an abortion! We are so proud of her taking a stand! She is ready to move on to bigger and better things, which for now is getting her GED since no schools can take her due to excessive absences and belligerent behavior! What a strong, independent woman she is becoming! Ho, ho, ho! Merry Christmas!

That is all folks for now. Go ahead, and pour yourself a cup of rum, and a splash of eggnog and cheer to us as we are inching closer to 2020!!! Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!
