

Our Christmas Missive for 2024

Dearest friends,

Best wishes for a very MERRY CHRISTMAS. None of that Happy Holidays or Season's Greetings nonsense in THIS household!

Of course, we are both elated and a little sad because of the outcomes in the recent election. The margin in the Senate is so slim. We are sure some RHINOs will make destroying the New Deal unnecessarily difficult.

However, we are patient. After all, it took us almost 100 years to get this far. But removing the yoke of regulations and dismantling the expensive so-called social safety net have been worth the wait.

Meanwhile, it's been a wonderful year in all. We are particularly proud of Missy and Junior.

Missy volunteered as a part-time researcher for the Heritage Foundation this year. She came home with an autographed copy of Project 2025, which has a place of honor in our bookcase just to the right of our family Bible.

Junior took part of his gap year to volunteer in North Carolina. He spent Monday through Friday working on voter suppression and got to hike on the weekends. As you know, he loves the Great Outdoors.

Surprise! Matt and I were invited to Mar-a-Lago to thank us for our support. We shared a fun-filled meal with THE MAN himself!! Can you imagine? And the chocolate cake there is as delicious as everyone says. All his restaurants must use the same recipe.

We were delighted to meet Elon – yes, we're on a first name basis! He is a true fireball. So much energy. So unhindered by social conventions. He issued an open invitation to us to join a select list of passengers on a future Space X flight. But, as you may know, I get slightly airsick, so I may have to pass. But Matt is thinking about it. I told him to make sure his Will is up to date before he makes plans. Ha-Ha!!

We hope you had a good 2024, too. Matt and I wish you an extremely profitable 2025.

Much love,
Muffy – and Matt, too, of course

P.S. And yes, we were assured that we will be pardoned no later than January 21.
